BIOGRAPHY

Originally from Wilmington, Delaware, Raphael Xavier (pronounced ZAH-vee-ay) is a self-taught Hip-Hop dancer and Breaking practitioner since 1983, Raphael has forged an exceptional approach to improvisation. Brenda Dixon Gottschild deemed Xavier, 'A fine rhythm technician who transforms a bravado dance style into an introspective meditation.'

A self-described Innovative Movement Conceptualist, Xavier creates new ways to expand the vocabulary of the dance form. He draws not only upon the culture but also his equally important background as a musical artist. As the sound designer of his works, Xavier's understanding of movement and musicality allows him to structure beats, noises and sounds into captivating music that draws upon emotion and coincides with his choreography. His full-length dance work, Point of Interest premiered in 2016 was featured in The Boston Globe's "Top 10 of the Year in Dance."

His extensive research in the Breaking form has led to the creation of Ground-Core, a Somatic dance technique that gives the practitioner a better understanding of the body within all dance forms. Xavier also served as Assistant Choreographer to Bill T. Jones in the Opera Philadelphia production We Shall Not Be Moved. Xavier's works have been performed at REDCAT Los Angeles, Kennedy Center in Washington DC, ART (American Repertory Theatre in Boston), The Joyce Theater in NYC, Dance Theatre Workshop in NYC, the Dance Center at Columbia College Chicago, the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts and Painted Bride, both in Philadelphia, among others. He is also a recipient of a 2018 New York Live Arts Live Feed Creative residency. Xavier currently lives in Philadelphia and is a Lecturer in Dance at Princeton University.

Awards and Accolades: 2013 Pew Fellowship, 2014 MacDowell Fellowship, 2016 Guggenheim Fellowship for Choreography, 2016 United States Artist Fellow

THE XCOPE (2021)

A site-specific performance combining a live musician/vocalist and electronic technology with hip hop aesthetics that include Breaking, poetry, spoken word and rap cadences with an improvisational and intuitive approach. The Xcope embodies the experiences of each performer to create narratives – capturing a moment in time shared by performers and audience.

Xavier offers a multi-day residency option where local performers in music, dance and/or poetry audition, rehearse and perform alongside Xavier to create a one-of-a-kind event with deep community engagement.

PREMIERING FALL 2024

CURRENTLY SEEKING CO-COMMISSIONER SUPPORT

Forty years as a practitioner of the form, an aged Breaker will set out far beyond shallow perspectives in search of “The Big Fish.”

Skiff is a new, evening length work for two. 53 year old Breaker and choreographer, Raphael Xavier contextualizes the work through the lens of Ernest Hemingway’s “The Old Man and the Sea,” the classic novel about a fisherman’s relentless battle with a giant Marlin. Xavier creates original text and spoken word to be interwoven with Hemingway, drawing parallels between the fisherman’s search and his own journey to build a dance career utilizing the artform of Breaking. Skiff features elements practiced by Xavier, merging story telling, rap, spoken word and Breaking, to examine the psychological effects of performing.

Skiff

In addition to the novel, Skiff also draws inspiration from 19th century American painter Winslow Homer's "The Gulf Stream" the iconic painting of a Black man in a small, rudderless fishing boat engulfed by a restless sea as sharks circle below. The powerful imagery aligns with Skiff's exploration of the male body, race, identity, privilege and power while encouraging conversations of identity, legacy and lineage.

Skiff features a transportable set constructed of white spandex panels, that create abstract shapes and designs specific to the story. Those shapes double as projection screens to put the audience as close to the story as possible, immersing the viewer into the work.

The transportable set allows for Skiff to be performed in galleries and intimate spaces as well as traditional proscenium stages.
