About the Company

"I dream of building a community of dancers in a forsaken place amidst nature. A place where nothing exists, except dance. A place where you breathe, eat, sleep, dream, talk, imagine - dance. A place where all the five senses can be refined to perfection. A place where dancers drop negative qualities such as jealousy, small-mindedness, greed and malice to embrace their colleagues as sisters and support each other in their journey towards becoming dancers of merit."

"A place called Nrityagram."

– Protima Gauri (October 12, 1948 - August 18, 1998)

One of the premier Indian Classical dance ensembles performing today, Nrityagram Dance Ensemble has the unprecedented distinction of making The New York Times' "Best Dance of the Year" list two consecutive years in a row (2015, 2016). More than a dance company, Nrityagram was founded as a village devoted to dance. The all-female ensemble's daily life of intensive training and meditation brings to the stage compelling captivating performances that are at once sensual and lyrical.

The Nrityagram dance village is located outside Bangalore, India. It was founded in 1990 by Odissi dancer Protima Gauri, who converted ten acres of farmland into a setting for the study, practice and teaching of dance. At Nrityagram, dance is a way of life. Reminiscent of ancient ashrams where gurus imparted not only technique but also a philosophy of being, this is a creative space where dancers, musicians and choreographers live together, sharing their skills and developing their art. To enrich their practice, dancers are also taught yoga and martial arts along with Sanskrit and classical literature. As knowledge passes from guru to disciple, the continuity of the classical arts is ensured.

Surupa Sen, Artistic Director

Surupa Sen was the first student to graduate from the Nrityagram Gurukula (School) and is a founding member of The Nrityagram Dance Ensemble. She began her Odissi training with the architect of Odissi, Guru Kelucharan Mahapatra and also studied Odissi with Guru Protima Gauri, and Abhinaya (expressional dance) with Guru Kalanidhi Narayanan. Surupa shares an artistic partnership with Bijayini Satpathy for over two decades and together they have researched and developed the vocabulary of Odissi dance and have created a style that distinguishes the dancers of the Nrityagram Gurukula (School). Attracted to choreography from her first exposure to western makers of dance, she has worked with dancers and choreographers from across the world. She has a keen talent for music and rhythm composition and has worked closely with composer Pt. Raghunath Panigrahi. Surupa has choreographed six full-length ensemble shows for Nrityagram, which are Śrī: In Search of the Goddess (2000), Ansh (2004), Sacred Space (2006), Pratimā: Reflection (2008), Saṃhāra (2012) and Śriyah (2016); and two full-length duet shows Saṃyoga (2012) and Songs of Love and Longing (2013). Surupa is Artistic Director and choreographer at Nrityagram.

In 2019, Surupa was awarded The Sangeet Natak Akademi Award, the highest award for the Performing Arts in India.

Pre and Post Performance Discussions

Nrityagram Dance Ensemble returns to the US with an exciting show that includes a new and unique interpretation of a 12th century poem. Daśavataṛ is a poem about the Ten Incarnations of the Hindu God Vishnu; incarnations that have been likened to Darwin’s Theory of Human Evolution. Inspired by the legendary Teejan Bai, an exponent of Pandavani, a traditional performing art form, in which the performer sings and enacts stories from the great epic Mahabharata, this piece is chanted / sung in English and Sanskrit and enacted by an ensemble of Odissi dancers. The new work will feature both Odissi and Kandyan dancers from Chitrasena Dance Company.
